

12pm Celebration

Let's watch together!

So great that you are there when we start to experience the celebration together again step by step. Please fill out this form so that we can comply with the currently valid regulations. We will then send you all further information.

We are already looking forward to seeing you!

Rules for participation:

- I agree that my data will be passed on to the responsible health authority in case of a chain of infection during the ICF services
- I take note that the wearing of a face mask from the entrance to your own seat is obligatory. The face mask may be removed from the seat. When singing it must be worn again.
- I am aware that someone else will miss the chance to attend the celebration if I do not use my ticket.
- You will be taken to one of the rooms by the Welcome Team. Please do not change the room, not even to say hello to someone else quickly.
- Should I experience flu symptoms of any kind, I will stay home and inform the church via groups@icf-muenchen.de
- I will do everything I can to comply with the rules of infection control
- In the last few weeks, many people still went to the beer garden after the celebration. This is no longer an official ICF event, we still ask you to follow the rules of the beer garden. It is especially important that you do not switch between the tables.

Translation

We will offer English translation via LiveVoice App for the 12 o'clock Live Stream Spot. Download the LiveVoice App for your smartphone (<https://livevoice.io/en>) before the service and bring your own headphones.
